The Role of the Courts in Immigration Law

Opening Remarks by the Honorable Norma L. Shapiro,
United States District Court for the Eastern District of Pennsylvania

"Ineffective Assistance": Padilla, Chaidez, and the Challenges Facing Pro-Bono Immigration Representation

3:00 p.m.—4:10 p.m.

Session one of this program addresses the changing landscape of the representation of non-citizens, with special attention to the recent United States Supreme Court decision in Chaidez v. United States. A distinguished and diverse panel will also provide guidance regarding charging and plea offers to non-citizens, and the discuss the special considerations that these cases require.

Arizona v. U.S.: One Year Later

4:20 p.m. — 5:30 p.m.

Nearly one year has passed since the United States Supreme Court made its ruling in Arizona v. United States. This panel will review the Court's 2012 ruling, and discuss its impact on other state immigration-related laws. Speakers will address what type of state-level immigration enforcement was ruled to be constitutional, and discuss areas in which federal judges must be alert to these issues in criminal and other matters. The panel will also address the implications of proposed comprehensive immigration reform legislation on federal court dockets.

Closing Remarks by the Honorable Robert A. Katzmann,
United States Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit

A reception will follow the program.
