Bankruptcy Training for Pro Bono Attorneys: 2-Part Series

Tuesday, December 10 and Thursday, December 12, 2013

9:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. (both days)

D.C. Bar Conference Center

1101 K Street NW, First Floor, Washington DC 20005-4210

PRESENTED BY the American College of Bankruptcy Foundation, the American College of Bankruptcy and the D.C. Bar Pro Bono Program Bankruptcy Clinic; with support from the Archdiocesan Legal Network, Legal Counsel for the Elderly, and the Antitrust & Consumer Law, Corporation, Finance & Securities Law, and Litigation Sections of the D.C. Bar.

For working people who live paycheck-to-paycheck, a prolonged illness or a layoff can mean financial disaster, despite the most careful budgeting. Between 2006 and 2012, 75% more personal bankruptcy petitions were filed in the District of Columbia, a significant portion of which are filed pro se.

Two main types of relief are available to individual debtors under the federal Bankruptcy Code: (1) Chapter 7, where the debtor's nonexempt assets are sold to pay creditors while most of the debtor's debts are discharged; and (2) Chapter 13, where the debtor prepares a plan to pay off creditors. This course is designed to prepare attorney volunteers to provide much-needed legal representation to Chapter 7 debtors through the D.C. Bar Pro Bono Program Bankruptcy Clinic.

The Bankruptcy training will cover:

- Client Interview Procedures
- Case Screening and Evaluation
- Pre-Bankruptcy Remedies
- Overview of Chapter 7 and Chapter 13 of the Federal Bankruptcy Code
- Automatic Stay
- Completion of Schedules
- Exemptions
- Discharge Provisions
- Conflicts of Interest

PLEASE NOTE: This Training is appropriate for attorneys and attorney/paralegal teams (paralegals must attend with an attorney). No particular expertise is required to participate. Attorneys must be admitted to practice before the highest court of any state and must be willing to file a certificate stating that the attorney is providing representation without compensation. Training participants must agree to accept two pro bono referrals from the D.C. Bar Pro Bono Program Bankruptcy Clinic. Malpractice insurance is provided by the D.C. Bar Pro Bono Program to attorneys who volunteer with the Bankruptcy Clinic. Pro Bono Program training sessions are not MCLE accredited.
