Tiffany Graves and Charley Moore Join the Pro Bono Net Board

New York, NY (April 21, 2021) – Pro Bono Net, a national, nonprofit leader in innovative programs that increase access to justice, is pleased to announce that Tiffany Graves, Pro Bono Counsel at Bradley and Charley Moore, Founder and CEO at Rocket Lawyer, have joined the Pro Bono Net Board of Directors.

Tiffany Graves serves as Bradley's Pro Bono Counsel, where she oversees the development and administration of the firm's pro bono programs. Tiffany says, "I have long admired the work of Pro Bono Net. As Pro Bono Counsel, my full-time work is focused on finding ways to connect our attorneys with those most in need. Like other law firms, we benefit from the crucial services provided by Pro Bono Net that increase access to attorneys and equalize the legal system. I am excited to serve on the Board and look forward to supporting Pro Bono Net's important work in this way." Prior to joining Bradley, Tiffany was the executive director of the Mississippi Access to Justice Commission, where she led a 21-member commission created by the Mississippi Supreme Court and promoted its initiatives to improve and expand access to civil justice to the nearly 700,000 Mississippians living in poverty. Tiffany also currently serves as Co-President of the Association of Pro Bono Counsel (APBCo).

Charley Moore, is the Founder and CEO of Rocket Lawyer. Rocket Lawyer is one of the most widely used legal services in the world, with operations in the US, the UK and Europe. Millions of people and organizations use Rocket Lawyer to access affordable and complete digital legal services. Charley says, "I look forward to serving on the board and helping to facilitate much needed assistance to people and organizations who otherwise may find justice out of reach."

Pro Bono Net is fortunate to have Tiffany's experience as a leader in racial justice issues and Charley's hands on knowledge serving consumer needs to lend perspective to our public facing programs.
