

REGISTER TODAY!

Seating is limited.

Wednesday, April 28, 2010, 2pm-5pm

Fordham Law School, 140 West 62nd Street, Room 430B/C

TRAINING

Overview of Consumer Debt Collection for DV Practitioners:

- New York City Civil Court Debt Collection Defense
- REQUIRED training for the DV-CLARO Pilot Project

Three (3) CLE credits will be provided
(Nontransitional, professional practice)

Presenters:

- ✓ Sidney Cherubin, Supervising Attorney, Brooklyn Bar Association Volunteer Lawyers Project
- ✓ Matt Schedler, Staff Attorney, CAMBA
- ✓ Susan Shin, Staff Attorney, NEDAP

This training provides an overview of consumer debt collection practices for domestic violence advocates. It is also geared towards practitioners interested in participating in DV-CLARO, a pilot project which will team up consumer law experts and domestic violence legal services providers. Teams will provide limited legal advice and, as appropriate, will make referrals for full representation. Out of this effort, pilot participants will develop best practices for assisting survivors with consumer debt issues.

Sponsors of the DV-PILOT Project:

Brooklyn Bar Association Volunteer Lawyers Project; CAMBA; Feerick Center for Social Justice at Fordham Law School; My Sisters' Place; NEDAP; NYLAG; Safe Horizon; Sanctuary for Families; The Financial Clinic; The Legal Aid Society of New York City; The Task Force on Domestic Violence and Economic Justice (DVEJ); [list in formation].

This training is free for legal services and attorneys and lawyers interested in participating in DV Claro.

To register please visit: <http://law.fordham.edu/consumerdebtraining4-28-2010>

For information, please contact Dora Galacatos at 212-636-7747 or at galacatos@law.fordham.edu

The Feerick Center for Social Justice – Fighting Poverty Through Partnerships to Create Achievable Solutions