

Veterans Justice Symposium

November 14, 2012

New York Law School

185 West Broadway New York, NY 10013

This Symposium will provide an overview of the civil legal services available to veterans, service members and their families in New York City and State. Social workers, VA staff and other service providers working with veterans and their family members are encouraged to attend to learn how legal service organizations can assist military veterans with the many civil legal problems they may encounter while re-adjusting to civilian life.
