10:45-11:45 Opening Session (Continued)

12:00-1:45 Luncheon

VCPEA Business Meeting, Celebration of 20 years of VCPEA, and Presentation of the Helen Napps Award

2:00-3:30 Breakout Session I:

A. The Medicaid Fraud Control Unit (MFCU) Elder Abuse and Neglect Squad In this workshop, we will describe the types of cases investigated by the Medicaid Fraud Control Unit in the Virginia Office of the Attorney General, as well as challenges to prosecution of these cases. Case studies will be provided. Presenters: Joseph E.H. Atkinson, Chief of Elder Abuse Investigations; Elizabeth Hudnall, Nurse Investigator-Health Care Fraud and Elder Abuse Section, Virginia Office of the Attorney General

B. Navigating the Legal System with Older Survivors

Although a person from any social class, race, or age can suffer forms of domestic and sexual violence, elderly victims are among those most vulnerable to such crimes. Unfortunately, crimes committed against elderly victims pose challenges that are not easily addressed by the criminal justice system. This workshop will focus on the unique issues presented by elderly victims and some creative ways to secure justice for them. Presenters: Mary Beth Pulsifer, Community Outreach Coordinator, Women's Resource Center of the New River Valley and Erin Little, Assistant Commonwealth's Attorney, Montgomery County Commonwealth's Attorney's Office

C. Challenging an Involuntary Nursing Home Discharge

What protection do vulnerable nursing home residents have if the nursing home decides to evict them? What procedures must a facility follow before it can legitimately force someone to move? This session will cover federal and state law protections for nursing home residents, common scenarios and case examples, and practical approaches and defenses to an involuntary discharge or a refusal to readmit after a hospital stay. Come learn how you can be an effective advocate to safeguard a nursing home resident's right to remain in his or her home. Presenters: Joani Latimer, Office of the State Ombudsman and Kathy Pryor, Virginia Poverty Law Center.

3:45-4:00 Break

4:00-5:00 Plenary: Super Self-Care for Over-Stressed Trauma Professionals

Professionals handling elder and domestic violence cases are routinely exposed to highly traumatizing material and events. As a result, super self-care is needed but often not practiced by hard-working individuals who are focused on the needs of their clients, their families, and others around them. This session will provide gentle reminders regarding the harmful effects of unmanaged stress and vicarious trauma and the need for all who handle cases involving human cruelty to take super care of themselves. Coping with a highly demanding job, clients with multiple serious unmet needs and conflicting multiple demands will be discussed. Presenter: Holly Ramsey-Klawnsnik, PhD., Sociologist, Licensed Marriage and Family Therapist, Licensed Certified Social Worker with a certificate in gerontology

9:00-10:30 Breakout Session II:

D. Old Age or Maltreatment? Working with Forensic Nurses in Suspected Maltreatment Cases

With the rapidly growing aging population, older adult maltreatment is of increasing concern. It is often under recognized and may be life threatening. In this session, the role of the forensic nurse in older adult maltreatment will be explored. Actual case presentations will be reviewed. Based on the request of last year's conference attendees, this is a repeat session from the 2012 Annual VCPEA Conference. Presenter: Melissa Harper, MSN, APRN, SANE-A-P Forensic Nurse Examiner, Carilion Roanoke Memorial Hospital ED FNE Program

E. Recognizing and Overcoming Deceptive Answers During Interviews

The objective of the workshop is to provide basic fundamentals on conducting interviews with suspects. This starts with preparation for the interview, location where conducted, recognition of deceptive responses, and ways to overcome them. Presenter: Lieutenant Paul Davis, Charlottesville Police Department

F. Medications and Aging

This workshop will review the principles of safe and effective medication use in older adults, focusing on medications that may be improperly used and those with side effects that might resemble symptoms of abuse. Presenter: Dr. Emily Peron, Pharm.D., MS, VCU School of Pharmacy in Geriatrics

11:00-12:30 Closing Plenary Session: Consumer Financial Protection Bureau: Protecting Seniors In this presentation, Mr. Humphrey will talk about the CFPB's Office for Older Americans and its efforts to help Americans 62 and older make sound financial decisions and protect themselves from unfair, deceptive, and abusive practices. Presenter: "Skip" Hubert H. Humphrey III, Assistant Director, Office of Financial Protection for Older Americans Consumer Finance Protection Bureau
